Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of directors and auditors

Scope of the audit of the financial statements

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the company's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the directors; and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Annual Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements. - the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or

2.3 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Financial assets

Financial assets consist of Subordinated Perpetual Fixed Rate Notes which are non-listed private placements and are classified as loans and receivables.

When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs.

All regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on the trade date which is the date that an asset is delivered to or by the company. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

After initial measurement loans and receivables are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any allowance for impairment. Amortised cost is calculated taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and transaction costs.

Gains and losses are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

Embedded contracts

As disclosed in note 6 and 9, the host debt instrument includes certain embedded derivatives. The Directors have assessed that all embedded derivatives are non-option in their nature and have therefore not separately accounted for them.

Preference shares

When financial liabilities are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs.

Preference shares are listed but do not have an active market. As a result, and to be consistent with the accounting treatment for the investments, the preference shares are also recorded at amortised cost. In addition, preference shares that, in substance, exhibit characteristics of a financial liability are recognised as a liability in the statement of financial position.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the revenue can be reliably measured. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognised:

Interest income

Revenue is recognised as the interest accrues, using the effective interest rate method unless collectibility is in doubt.

Interest expense

The corresponding dividends on preference shares are recognised as an interest expense in the statement of comprehensive income. Interest expense is recognised as the interest accrues using the effective interest rate method.

Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currency are translated to Euro, which is also the functional and reporting currency. Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded in the functional currency rate ruling at the date of the transaction.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rate of exchange ruling at the statement of financial position date. All differences are taken to the statement of comprehensive income.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary assets and liabilities measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

Taxation

Profits arising in the Company are subject to Jersey Income Tax, currently at a rate of 0%.

Derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised where:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- the company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset, or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and
- either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the company's continuing involvement in the asset.

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

Impairment of financial assets

Assets carried at amortised cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future expected credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (i.e., the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The amount of loss shall be recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date.

Receivables

Receivables are recognised and carried at the expected recoverable amount.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash at bank with a maturity of less than 3 months. Cash at bank is carried at cost.

Payables

Amounts payable are recognised and carried at cost which is the consideration to be paid for goods and services received, whether or not billed to the Company.

Critical accounting estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and based on historical experience and other factors including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

In the opinion of the Directors, the accounting estimates and judgements made in the course of preparing these Financial Statements are not difficult, subjective or complex to a degree which would warrant their description as critical in terms of the requirements of IAS 1 (revised).

13. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial risk management policies

Erste Bank (Malta) Limited being 100% owner of the Company uses a control and risk management system that is proactive and tailored to the group's risk profile. This system is based on a clear risk strategy consistent with the Company's business strategy. The system's goal is the early identification and management of risks and trends.

Risk was assessed upfront during the set up of the SPV, between lawyers and Erste Group Bank AG itself. This resulted in careful selection of assets and liabilities with similar terms to minimise the risk within the Company.

The Company's principal financial assets comprise investments, cash at bank and receivables. Financial liabilities comprise preference share and payables.

The carrying amounts on the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2010 have arisen mainly in connection with the Company's operations.

Fair values

As at 31 December 2010, the carrying amounts of cash at bank, receivables, and payables approximated their fair values due to the short term maturities of these assets and liabilities.

The fair value of the preference shares, based on the quoted market price of the shares as at 31 December 2010 was EUR138,405,000 (2009: EUR122,316,000).

As disclosed in note 9 the host debt instrument includes certain embedded derivatives. The Directors have assessed that all embedded derivatives are non-option in their nature and have therefore not separately accounted for them.

Market risk

Market risk is the fluctuation in interest rates, exchange rate and security prices. However as the Company has only one loan outstanding, where the borrower is the ultimate parent company (Erste Group Bank AG) the market risk can be considered as very limited. Interest rate risk and foreign currency risk, making up market risk, are dealt with as described above.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk of adverse change in the fair value of financial instruments caused by movement in market interest rates. This type of risk arises, when mismatches exist between assets and liabilities in respect of their maturities or of the timing of interest rate adjustments.

The interest rate on the investments, being issued notes of Erste Group Bank AG ("Erste Bank"), as well as the interest on preference shares issued by the Company are both subject to fixed interest rates up to redemption date. Accordingly, there is no exposure to interest rate risk. Since both financial instruments are subject to fixed interest rates, the Company is not exposed to any interest rate risk as a result of possible changes in interest rates.

Foreign currency risk

Fluctuation in foreign exchange rates creates foreign currency risks. The Company has transactional currency exposures arising from interest receivables and dividend payables in Euro. As the timing of interest receivables in Euro matches that of dividend payables in Euro and the fact, that the base currency of the Financial Statement is Euro as well, the foreign currency risk is limited only to certain administrative expenses incurred in foreign currencies.

Credit risk

The Company's exposure to credit risk with respect to financial assets arises from default of the counter party, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amounts. In particular, the Company is exposed to Erste Group Bank AG's credit risk as there is a concentration of credit risk with the ultimate parent Company. Erste Group Bank AG's credit rating as at 31 December 2010 was A for long term and A-1 for short term as categorised by Standard and Poor's. The financial assets of the Company are neither past due nor impaired. Please refer to Note 6 for a detailed overview of the Company's investments.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will be unable to meet its payment obligations when they fall due under normal and stress circumstances.

The Company manages liquidity risk throughout the entire year, resulting in a positive short-term liquidity gap, and by timing the financial asset maturities on a basis similar to those of the financial liabilities. The Company also has the benefit of the preference shares in issue being limited recourse.

Liquidity risk principally relates to the Company's dividend payment obligations under the preference shares. The timing of cash flows receivable on interest accruing to the Company on its investments matches that of dividend payments. Therefore we consider that there is no liquidity risk at all.
